

Mississippi River

New Orleans

Levee

Baton Rouge

- MAP LEGEND:
- RESTROOMS
 - HANDICAPPED
 - WATER
 - MINT JULEPS

Oak Alley Plantation Ownership

1820 Valcour Aime	1881 Marcelene "Antonio" Sobral
1836 Jacques T. Roman	1905 Etienne O. Hotard and J.D. Pittman
1866 John Armstrong	1911 Efram Rosenberg
1867 John Armstrong / Hubert Bonzano	1917 Jefferson Davis Hardin
1873 Armstrong / Bonzano / Hector Humphreys	1925 Andrew and Josephine Stewart
1875 Hector Humphreys	1972 Oak Alley Foundation

ENTRANCE →

Sugarcane is a tropical, perennial grass that grows into 10 foot tall, 1 inch round stalks. During planting season, August thru September, mature stalks of sugarcane are laid in rows and covered. Each stalk consists of numerous joints with buds which germinate shoots that produce the sugarcane crop. Harvest occurs a full year later from October thru late December. Sugarcane rejuvenates after each harvest and produces 3 or 4 annual crops from each planting. Oak Alley Plantation was established as a sugarcane plantation, and the fields that surround our historic grounds are planted on private land by local farmers.